Board upholds teacher transfers

Two W'stock directors cast only votes against moves; Hand supports Supt.

By WENDY HANSCOM

The SAD 44 school board has overwhelmingly supported Superintendent Dewaine Craig's plan to transfer three Woodstock Elementary School teachers to the Crescent Park School.

The board vote on the plan came at Monday evening's meeting in Andover.

The only two directors to vote against the move were Woodstock directors Marcel Polak and T.L. McGee. Board Chairman Margaret Hand, the third Woodstock director, supported the plan.

The transfers have been vehemently opposed by several Woodstock and Greenwood parents. A handful of WES parents made the drive to Andover for Monday's meeting.

McGee told the board that the transfers would erode the school's educational base.

"Without a good foundation to build on, a school is nothing," McGee said. "I can't support tearing apart a school. I think when we're moving that many teachers the board should be involved."

Of the board members who spoke out in favor of the transfers, several alluded that teacher personality conflicts were involved in the WES/CPS transfers, and the board should steer clear of becoming involved.

"I don't believe that it is the administrators intent to destroy the school, and I don't think they have," Bethel Director Jane Rolfe said. "I don't believe the board should be involved in the day-to-day running of the district."

Polak said he objected to the administration's handling of the transfers.

"Had I been better informed all along I could have supported the administration better," Polak said. "I could have defused some of the public outcry."

Bethel Director Merton Brown said things might have gone more smoothly if the board had been better informed, but the moves were probably still necessary.

Environmentalism will keynote Gould graduation

Trudy Coxe, former director of Ocean and Coastal Resource Management for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), and current secretary of Environmental Affairs for the State of Massachusetts, will deliver the keynote address to this year's 157th graduating class at Gould Academy on Saturday, May 29.

Coxe is the former executive director of Save the Bay, a 16,000-member environmental organization based in Providence, R.I. At NOAA, Coxe managed and directed a $52-million, 160-person ocean and coastal management program, designating more sanctuaries in 1992 than had been designated in any one year of the program's 20-year history. Sunday River

$8 million expansion planned

The Sunday River Ski Resort has unveiled an $8 million expansion program that will significantly increase the size of the resort. During the upcoming ski season, skiers will find up to ten new trails; expanded snowmaking that will allow the resort to open more terrain faster early in the season and recondition trails more quickly; and an assortment of other on- and off-mountain improvements.

Projects include:

- Snowmaking: A $3.1 million dollar upgrade to compressed air and water pumping capability. A new high-pressure air compressor system will be installed, giving Sunday River significantly greater capacity and efficiency. The net gain in compressed air availability will be approximately 20 percent, giving Sunday River what skiway officials believe will be the largest high-pressure snowmaking system in the world. An additional reservoir and pump will be added, allowing the resort to deliver 7,000 gallons of water per minute, a 17 percent gain. The improvements will allow Sunday River to convert twice as much water to snow at 25 degrees F. as was previously possible.

- Trails: Approximately 50 acres of new ski terrain will be added, bringing skiable acreage to well over 510 acres. Terrain will include new "Easier" routes from the summits of North and Aurora Peaks; a new "More Difficult" route from the top of White Cap, a new black-diamond glade on Barker Mountain and two double-black diamond glades on White Cap. All but the glades will be served by snowmaking.

- Snowboard Park: The upper section of the Starlight trail will be converted to a terrain garden for snowboard skiers, with a variety of berms, rolls, quarterpipes, and other terrain variations for snowboarders. In addition, a new trail will connect the terrain garden to the resort's half pipe. A new, dedicated snowmaking line will serve the half pipe.

Skiway offers summer day camp for local kids

Sunday River Ski Resort will offer day-camp activities for area youth this summer. Activities offered include Red Cross swimming instruction, games, hiking, arts and crafts, photography and video production. Complimentary transportation from Bethel to Sunday River is available.

The camp is open to children ages 5 to 15. Two four-week sessions are offered: June 28-July 23, and July 26-Aug. 20. The program is also offered on a weekly and daily basis. All activities will be based at the Snow Cap Ski dorm. A Sunday River trolley will pick campers up beginning at 8:45 daily at the Bethel Common, Telstar High School and Crescent Park School. The return to town starts at 4 p.m.

Camp Sunday River will be supervised by Sunday River staff members. Daily activities include games such as volleyball, kickball, softball, and supervised arts

- Children's Center: A 3,200 square-foot Children's Center will be built at the resort's South Ridge base area.

- Summit Hotel Expansion: A $4 million expansion to Sunday River's slopeside Summit Hotel and Conference Center will add 80 guest rooms, meeting facilities and a huge ballroom.

The expansion will enable Sunday River to employ over 250 persons this summer. Its normal summertime staff is approximately 160. This ski season, the resort employed more than 1,100 people.

Sunday River has posted 13 consecutive seasons of growth. The summer's expansion program will bring investment in the resort since 1980 to over $90 million.

and crafts. Daily Red Cross swimming instruction is offered to four-week campers. Each week, special variety programs such as hiking, photography and video production will be offered. Campers desiring photography workshops must provide their own 35mm camera. Mountain biking is also available at extra charge.

Four-week session fees are $149, with a charge of $119 for a second child from the same family. One-week sessions are $55, with a $45 charge for an additional family member. Single-day participation is offered on a space-available basis for $15.

Pre-registration is required for all participants. Space for four-week sessions may be secured with a deposit of $50 per child, with the balance due on the first day of camp. To register a child or obtain additional information, call 824-3000.

Gilead constable injured

By WENDY HANSCOM

After stopping last week to ask hikers to move their vehicles out of a no parking area on White's Hill, Gilead Road Commissioner and Constable Harry Taylor Jr. broke two ribs when he tried to stop his truck from rolling backwards.

Several vehicles were parked last Tuesday in a tow-away zone on the blind hill on a narrow section of the Northwest Bethel Road which runs along the Androscoggin River, Taylor said.

"We have no parking signs on the hill," he said. "I stopped to warn the hikers and then the emergency brake popped out and my truck started to roll. I jumped and tried to grab it. I got the door open and tried

Steve Wight new LURC head

Will oversee development in 10.5 million acres of state

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Newry selectman Steve Wight has been elected chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the Maine Land Use Regulation Commission.

LURC acts as a planning board for the state's 10.5 million acres of unorganized territories.

LURC was formed in 1973. Governor John McKernan appointed Wight to his first four-year term as a commissioner in 1987.

Wight and his wife, Peggy, have owned and operated the Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Ski Center in Newry since 1971.

Wight said the biggest challenge facing LURC is to balance the need to preserve the traditional character and economic base of the northern forest, while at the same time accommodating the increased pressure for various types of development.

LURC is also overhauling its comprehensive plan for the unorganized territories, Wight said, and is expected to address issues such as what types of development are most appropriate for rural areas and how best to encourage them.

In the Bethel area, LURC has been active in recent years in Albany and Riley townships.

In Albany, LURC and the state Department of Environmental Protection were involved in enforcement action against Peter Gordon's tire dump. (Many of the tires were moved a few miles away to a licensed site in Greenwood.)

LURC has also functioned as a planning board regulating a number of individual cottage constructions in Albany, Wight said, and the commission would also rule on the bingo hall proposed for the township.

With approximately 300 people, Albany is one of the most populated areas in LURC jurisdiction, Wight said. In the total area overseen by the commission there are only 12,000 or so people, he said.

In Riley, the LURC commissioners voted unanimously last year to approve a change of zoning that will allow Sunday River Ski Resort to expand its trail and support facilities into the township.

Wight, as a Newry businessman, abstained from that vote, and he said he will continue to abstain from any future votes involving the ski resort.

He said he was uncertain if he will likewise abstain from LURC discussions on Sunday River expansion. "I think I have something to contribute to those discussions," he said. "But I have to personally look at how involved I can become without being considered in a conflict of interest."

The Land Use Regulation Commission consists of seven citizen members appointed by the governor. Its responsibilities include setting policy, adopting new rules and rule changes, deciding zoning petitions and large, precedent-setting or controversial applications and approving enforcement actions. Members of the commission are chosen for their understanding of the unorganized jurisdiction and their knowledge of various facets of planning concerns.

Wight, an engineer and Air Force officer before moving to Newry, holds the position requiring expertise in the field of commerce and industry.

LURC staff in Augusta carries out administrative, operational, and other functions of the commission and is divided into divisions of Resource Administration, Planning and Zoning, Development Review, and Enforcement and Field Services.

The commission is similar to a local planning board except that the area of its responsibilities cover some 10.5 million acres and more than 300 coastal islands.

"In essence, it plans regionally and implements locally," Wight said.

Letters to the editor

MIDDLE SCHOOL TRACK PROGRAM DOING FINE

To the Editor:

I was upset with the letter in last week's Citizen written by Richard Taylor of Gould Academy. It always amazes me that someone who considers himself a professional does not have the common courtesy to call and ask some questions before making accusations in a public newspaper.

Our middle school track team is being coached this year by Ivan Roberts, who is in his third year as middle school track coach. He is being assisted by two high school seniors who are doing a fine job. Technical assistance is available from John Applin and Russ Tomrose who have several years experience as high school track coaches.

The decision to use high school seniors as assistants was made after a lengthy discussion with the school board. It was felt that with no applications from staff or community that 18- and 19-year-old assistant coaches was a better option than cutting half of the 47 students who were out for track. With no track to train on and running all meets away from Telstar, I believe all our track coaches are to be commended for an outstanding job under adverse conditions.

When I called Mr. Taylor at Gould Academy last week, he seemed to feel comfortable with our program and indicated that he would write a retraction of his earlier letter. Seeing no retraction, I felt compelled to write this letter in an effort to help our athletes, parents and coaching staff feel a little better about our program.

Let me assure everyone who has concerns that we understand the developmental aspects of middle school athletics and strive to make our programs both safe and educational, while providing competitiveness as we work to develop talent. I would encourage anyone who has questions about any of our programs, whether academic or co-curricular, to call any of us here at Telstar. We will be happy to talk with you about your concerns in an effort to continuously strive to improve.

Director of Athletics
Telstar

DICK TAYLOR REPLIES:

I think Mr. Higgins misunderstood our conversation, if he interpreted it to mean I would retract my criticism. I would respond more fully as follows:

From conversations with him and Ivan Roberts (middle school track coach), I have been relieved to hear that they recognize the less-than-perfect situation which necessitated hiring students to help coach. I sympathize with the bind in which they found themselves. I also respect their irritation at not being questioned directly for a more complete picture of the track coaching/training situation than the one apparent from the School Board's deliberations. I regret not having done so.

Particularly Mr. Roberts' generous-minded description of his program indicated to me an appropriately low-key, humane philosophy of sport which, at his invitation, I will enjoy observing and, where I can, helping. Compared to some other program with which I have become familiar in western Maine, where kids are used hard and overruled, Mr. Roberts seems distinctly reasonable.

My concern about using kids as coaches (in this case interns) remains just as profound as ever. There continue to be too many youngsters in interscholastic sport who have suffered the ill-effects of even the most well-intended, selfless coaches, both student and adult; so many, in fact, that as intelligent, tax-paying sportsmen, educators, and parents we must keep insisting on truly certified professionals to work with our kids. I know that routinely comes back to budget items, but our kids' bodies are just too precious for us to even think of putting them in the discount column. When that happens, we need to say something and do something. I hope we will.

LET'S PAY OUR OWN WAY

To the Editor:

One reason that Bethel might want to investigate a "pay as you go" trash disposal system is that it rewards individuals who make an effort to recycle materials, re-use things like containers or plastic bags, and reduce the amount of unnecessary packaging we buy.

Currently, the conscientious citizen who makes these efforts (thus reducing Bethel's trash bills and even bringing the town some income from the recycling market) is subsidizing those who have not yet begun to recycle. This is subsidy, not a free market, and once again, it's the property tax payer who foots the bill. I much prefer the idea of removing trash disposal from our tax bills, and taking responsibility for my own trash.

Bethel must pay $67 per ton to dispose of our trash after it is picked up by D&E or dropped off at the transfer station on route 2. On the recycling side, the town has reported that we are only one ton per month away from having a positive cash flow from recycling. When you realize that most individuals and businesses do not currently recycle, and then do a little math, you can see how Bethel would save money if individuals had some incentive to recycle.

Concern about people who would dispose of trash along roadsides, etc. may be valid, but it might be worth the town investigating other communities that have tried it. When I visit my mother in Norwich, Vermont, I see a town that has a pay-per-bag system. Although Norwich is only one example, the town is extremely clean, and there is no visible evidence of "midnight dumping" of trash.

Maybe there are ways to give businesses and other institutions a break if it appears they face an undue burden. However we work out the details of our trash disposal, let's make Bethel a model of good old Yankee thrift.

Let our young people learn individual accountability and how they can be part of alleviating this major societal problem instead of "letting someone else worry about it."

MORE THAN A NICE GUY

To the Editor:

Since your article on May 19, regarding the board of selectmen meeting from May 17, many Bethel residents that I have come upon have asked me why I felt that being a nice guy, (as your newspaper stated) was justification for a variance on the Sewer System Development Charge? So, if I may, I would like to give some details from a letter I sent to the board of selectmen which were also discussed on the same evening. I hope the letter will clarify some questions being asked by our citizens.

Dear Members of the Board:
Thank you for taking the time to consider my plea. As you may know, I have recently purchased a home previously known as the Farrah house at 20 Church St. in Bethel. I did this with the desire to not only make a new life in Bethel but with the hopes of turning my home into a bed and breakfast.

During the process of fulfilling all of the requirements for the Site Plan Review Ordinance I was informed that an SSDC charge of approximately $2,200 would be assessed to my project. Not only can I simply not afford such a charge, but hopefully my explanation for not being assessed this amount can help you see clear to eliminate this obstacle. I know that having only two guestrooms to sell would mean that I am not officially a bed and breakfast and need not get approval from the town. I have three bedrooms, one of which is my own. My desire would be to sell only two bedrooms. But, if the need should arise to sell the third room, I much prefer to have the full support of the town of Bethel from the very beginning. Subsequently, I would need approval for a full-fledged bed and breakfast.

It was told to me by the town manager, (citing another bed and breakfast in town adding three bathrooms), that this SSDC charge is not only a water usage charge but a change of use charge, (not necessarily for additional bathrooms but for additional room usage). Some of you may be aware of the fact that prior to my purchasing this home of six possible bedrooms, at least five were in constant use for sleeping while the sixth was a storeroom. Two bathrooms are also in the house. In addition, there is an outbuilding with an apartment consisting of another bedroom and bathroom with approximately 1,000 square feet shop that is zoned commercially.

The only change of use I would bring to the sewer treatment plant would be a decrease. The home I purchased was listed and known as a four bedroom house. I am asking for only three. I am not adding any more bathrooms. There are no structural changes being made, only cosmetics. And, I have no family to increase the usage. My usage will prove to be much less than the amount used by the number of people in the home as the previous tenants.

Lastly, may I bring to your attention that the sewer use ordinance clearly states that your board can waive this fee. Especially in view of the fact that there is not new construction, renovation or alteration, or change or expansion of use which will increase the amount of wastewater added to the sewer system. In addition this same paragraph of Section 6, Page 14-15 of part 2 states: "the CEO/LPI may also take into consideration the installation of water saving devices and historical water usage in making his/her decisions."

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

The 14th annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show was held Saturday, May 22, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Students in Bethel area elementary schools submitted art relating to this year's theme "Down on the Farm in the Old Days." Judges this year were Romeo and Jo Baker of Newry and Judy Hall of Roxbury. Winners were selected in three divisions. In Division I (Grades one and two) first prize was won by Courtney Blake, grade two, Crescent Park; second prize, Alexis Grover, grade one, Crescent Park; third prize, Christian Morgan, grade two, Crescent Park. Division II (Grades three and four), the winners were first, David Ojeda, grade three, Crescent Park; second, Caroline Raymond, grade three, Crescent Park; third, Chelsea Marshall, grade three, Crescent Park. In Division III (grades five and six), the winners were first, Anna Louise Sysko, grade five, Crescent Park; second, Jon Hooper, grade five, Crescent Park; third, Riley Hansen, grade five, Crescent Park.

Prizes include a cash award, certificate of commendation, and ribbons. The show honors a founder of the Bethel Historical Society, who was an accomplished artist and very interested in art for students. It is supported in part by the Bethel Savings Bank, where Mrs. Taylor worked for many years until her death in 1972. Much appreciation is expressed to all the students and teachers who worked hard to make the show possible and to the volunteers who made it such a success.

On Sunday, May 23, the 200th anniversary of the birth of Agnes Straw Mason was observed with a party at her home. Lorrie Hoch and Joanne Korhonen demonstrated crafts, Judy Haskell served as guide, Persis Post served punch and cake, Helen Morton painted, and Society Director Stanley R. Howe provided a tribute to Mrs. Mason on reaching this important milestone. In his remarks, Howe quoted John Fairfield, a member of Congress who served with Dr. Moses Mason and described Mrs. Mason as follows in 1836: "She is a real clever, good Yankee woman. In former times, she was a school mistress, and of course pretty well educated. She dresses well and appears well, though a Calvinist Baptist."

Funding is being provided by $245,000 in loans, $335,000 in Jobs Bond funds, $225,000 from the Maine

Department of Transportation and an estimated $315,000 grant from the Farmer's Home Administration. In addition to sewer and storm drain replacement, the project also includes the reconstruction of Mill Hill Road and Park Street, granite curbing around the common, a small enlargement of the common, widening of Church Street and a new intersection at the junction of Broad Street and Mill Hill Road. Once the project is completed, Selectman Arlan Jodrey said, the town will have fulfilled 95 percent of its consent agreement with the Maine Department of Environmental Protection to remove inflow and infiltration from the town's sewer system.

From the Bethel Police log:
Railroad and Main intersection tight turn for tractor-trailer trucks
Monday morning Officer Darren Tripp notified the Maine Department of Transportation that the stop sign at the intersection of Railroad and Main streets had been knocked down. An MDOT official told police that the sign may get knocked down frequently, because "the intersection is presently too tight for a truck/trailer with a 48-foot or more length," according to Tripp's report.
In other police news last week, Friday police assisted with serving a summonses to Calvin Burgess of Interval Road for allowing his dog to run at large.
Wednesday, a Newry resident told police his son's car had been badly scratched while it was parked in a Gould Academy parking lot. Police estimated the damage at $1,000.

to get in, but the truck was rolling so fast I couldn't get in and the door hit me and knocked me down."
Taylor said the truck went off the road and rolled into an embankment doing about $1,000 damage. He said he will probably be out of work for about a month. Taylor has two broken ribs and several scrapes and bruises, he said.
Parking problems on White Hill are not new, Taylor said.
"People ignore the no parking signs," he said. "I've seen dozens of cars parked on both sides of the road there and it's dangerous. It's narrow and rough. It's a blind hill and the school bus also has to go through there. We don't mind the mountain climbers, they have a practice course set up, but we don't want them parking on the road. It's a tow-away zone. We've never had anyone towed away, but if this keeps up we will. I like to warn people and give them a chance."
An Oxford County deputy, Bethel Police Chief Dale Bellman and Bethel Rescue responded to the accident scene last week.

FIVE YEARS OF FIRE FIGHTING—The Newry Fire Auxiliary recently presented the Fire Department with dedication plaques for the town's two fire stations. The plaques were given in honor of the department's fifth anniversary. Auxiliary Vice President Sheila Fleet, left, and President Brenda Wight presented the plaques to Assistant Fire Chief Brad Wight Saturday at a potluck supper in the Bear River Grange Hall. Transfers
"Even if they were all to return to the school," Brown said, "the problems wouldn't go away."
"There were probably some personnel problems," McGee replied, "but teachers are paid to teach, not to like each other. They don't have to like each other to teach. The problem now is the dismantling of a school and a community."
Bethel director John Brown reminded the board that even if they voted against the transfers, the board itself could make no formal recommendation regarding teacher transfers.
The board could suggest that the superintendent reconsider the transfers, Brown said, but board by-laws allow only the superintendent to deal with personnel transfers. Brown said Craig was within his rights to bring the same recommendation to the board repeatedly, which could result in a deadlock.
Before Monday's vote on the issue, Greenwood Director Marjorie Kessler urged WES parents to put aside their frustration over the transfers and support the school's new teachers as they begin teaching this fall.
Ultimately 14 of the 16 directors at Monday's meeting voted in favor of 11 teacher transfers throughout the district, which include the WES staff changes.
Bethel Director Linda Saunders was absent Monday night.

In other business Monday evening, the finance committee authorized the superintendent to transfer $499 slated for the high school jazz band stipend to the Odyssey of the Mind account to help cover the cost of a Telstar Middle School team travelling to Maryland for the OM World Competition.

LATE SEASON ACTION—Under a gray May sky Channel IV cameraman Charlie Raymond, above, films Telstar High School's softball win over Livermore Falls Saturday. The Rebels, above right, won 9-1. Pitcher Stacie Kangas struck out nine and walked none, while Jen Percival had three hits and two RBI. Pam Bennett contributed two hits and three RBI. The Rebels are 11-1 for the season. The girls beat Leavitt 17-0 Friday. Kangas fired a no-hitter. Monday night Telstar beat Mt. Abram 9-4. It was Kangas' 50th varsity softball win. So far this season, she has struck out 80 batters and walked only three. Monday, Dani Bernier and Percival each had three hits, while Bennett and Noelle Gauthier had two apiece. The girls go to Madison, who took the Rebels out of the playoffs last year, today and finish up the regular season home against Winthrop on Friday at 4 p.m. Post-season State Class C playoffs begin June 3. If the Rebels seed in the top four, at least the first playoff game will be held at home. Last week's high school ratings put Telstar in second place in Western Maine Class C competition. The Rebel baseball team, to right, is also finishing up its season. Telstar beat Livermore Falls 7-3 on Saturday. Friday the Rebels lost to Leavitt 6-2. Monday's game against Mt. Abram was rained out. The boys play the final three games of the regular season this week. The Rebels go to Madison today, play the makeup game against Mt. Abram at home Thursday and finish up the season at home Friday against Winthrop at 4 p.m. In order to make the post-season State Class C playoffs, the boys will probably have to win at least two out of the three remaining games. Bryant Pond

By ALICE HOYT

The Historical Society tries to capture the essence of New England. It preserves the heritage of our community and area for all to enjoy. The Historical Museum is a place where items of yesterday are available for visitors to contemplate today. The Historical Society researches all aspects of history from our own locality to world events. Did you know a famous family of carriage-makers came from Woodstock? Did you know Woodstock once enjoyed many theatrical and musical performances? Do you know when Bryant Pond Village began?

Franklin Grange 124 met on Monday evening, May 17. This was children's night with some students from Woodstock Elementary School putting on some of the program. It was good to see Myrtle and Louise Bisbee to grange again. The program was held before the meeting. Around 69 people attended. The program was as follows: opening song by all; opening thought by Anna Swan; the fourth grade sang several songs about things they have been studying--the 16 counties of Maine, Maine Minerals, Caring for the Earth and Recycling; skit by the resource room students about spring and things waking up, with children acting as worms and animals; all sang "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" with children going around the Maypole; reading by Pam Moody about spring; "April Showers" by everyone; Russell Yates acted out a reading about paint that wouldn't dry; song by all--"School Days"; Charlotte Cole sang and played while everyone sang; Richard Felt told a story; Dot Canwell whistled, then she had all the children who liked to whistle join her in a song; closing thought by Anna Swan. Next meeting is June 7 with Memorial program and Deaf Awareness.

The Woodstock Senior Citizens will meet at the Country Way in So. Paris for their June 3 meeting. There will be a silent auction.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Hathaway were dinner guests of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Jordan, on Sunday and later called on Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wardwell.

So. Woodstock

By OLIVE R. DAVIS

Esther and Olive Davis took a ride Sunday afternoon to Hanover to call on Gwendolyn Holt in her trailer. They had a very nice visit with Gwen and her daughter Helen.

Larry A. Billings writes: The Historical Society expands our awareness of the world and past ages.

Did you know historian William Berry Lapham was one of Woodstock's local doctors?

Did you know Captain John Dearborn lived across from the present Historical Museum and once owned the Museum building?

The Historical Society knows the present and future are often influenced by the past.

The Historical Museum has many exhibits that let us recreate the past.

The Historical Society reflects our ancestors' contributions to the development of America.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews visited Olive Davis Tuesday. Arthur fixed some windows for her aunt.

Dot Canwell and Richard Felt attended musical night at Union Harvest Grange. It was open house. Dot and Richard were on the program.

Richard Felt and band attended a dinner at Reddings Homes Incorporated in appreciation of their music for their many volunteers. The band received Certificates of Appreciation from them, the hostesses.

Richard Felt's Orchestra played Saturday night at West Paris Grange Hall for a dance. They also played at Franklin Grange Hall Saturday afternoon for a retirement party for Mr. and Mrs. Francis Howe and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Howe. It also was for a send-off for Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Howe, who are soon journeying to Alaska to see their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Howe are going to Alaska, also.

Esther Davis had her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Whittemore over for dinner Friday noon.

Lucille Robbins called on Olive Davis Friday night. Roland and Yvonne Delamater of So. Carolina were also afternoon callers.

Esther Davis and daughter Patricia Tibbets drove to Bangor on May 15. They picked up Jerry Shorey and Tim Kennagh on their way. They attended Esther's granddaughter's graduation from Husson College, namely Jackie Tibbets, who returned home with them.

Richard Felt and Dot Canwell played at Nobleboro Grange Tuesday night for their musical night.

Wednesday, May 19, Richard Felt and full orchestra entertained at the Dixfield Legion Hall for the Senior Citizens in the afternoon.

East Stoneham

By ELEANOR NELSON

Stoneham Volunteer Firemen took part in the Firefighter 1 Class A training session Sunday at the old Brown farmhouse at Virginia Lake. Six area departments were involved in the search and rescue techniques, etc. The building and surrounding land is owned by the federal government and is part of the White Mountain National Forest. First of all, they had to cut holes in the roof to let the bats out, I was told.

Minchaha Temple of the Pythian Sisters met on May 14 here at the K. of P. Hall with six members present. Correspondence was read from Grand Chief Linda Newcomb. A Mother's Day program was held and it was voted to hold Memorial services with the Hamlin Temple at Webber Brook Cemetery.

Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will meet at the K. of P. Hall here on Wednesday, May 26, at which time Memorial services will be held for their deceased members. They will be marching after church on May 30 to the cemetery to honor a veteran. Everyone is invited to join them in honoring all veterans at this program. There will be refreshments at the church vestry.

Sympathy is extended to Earl and Jean Littlefield on the passing away of her sister Mary Flanders from So. Paris.

John Even graduated from his nursing course at the University of Southern Maine with highest honors on May 15. He was in Phi Kappa Phi (Saumma Cum Laude) and Sigma Theta Tau (International Honor Society of Nursing). A small party honoring John was held at his home and was given by his wife Gabrielle. He hopes to have a nursing position at a local hospital in the near future.

Stella Johnson from Maryland is here visiting her sister and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown, and while here will visit her mother, Sarah Grover, who is in the Ledgeview Memorial Nursing Home in West Paris. Sarah had the misfortune to have her hip dislocated again and had to have it set at the Stephens Memorial Hospital.

On Wednesday, Carole Nelson had to go to the store on a quick errand and took her dog Amber with her. Usually she takes the keys out of the car but that day she was busy making sure the dog didn't get out of the car when she shut the door, and when she came back out of the store, she found that Amber had put her chin on the lock and locked Carole out of the car. She asked store owner Frankie Vail for help, and Eddie Bennett and Mike McAlister came to her rescue. She wants to thank them again for their help. She learned her lesson to either leave the dog at home or take the keys with her. Of course, to her dismay, there were a lot of people in the store at that time.

On Sunday, May 30, the Rescue Service is putting on their annual Pancake Breakfast, which is always good and they serve much, much more than pancakes. This will be from 7 to 10:30 a.m. I can almost smell the bacon frying across the road right now.

Troy Nelson of Boy Scout Troop 155 was one of 600 Boy Scouts who took part in the Casco Bay District Camporee for a weekend experience to learn about handicapped awareness. They learned a bit of what it's like to be blind and physically challenged. Thirty-three-year-old Mike Noyes picked up a cup of coffee with his toes and told them how he has overcome many obstacles and lives a happy and productive life without arms. He is a field worker for the Pine Tree Easter Seal Society in Bath and has much experience teaching handicapped awareness in Maine areas. This was a good learning experience for the boys.

Vance and Connie Bacon were in Fairfax, Vt. for the weekend with their daughter Kathy and Bob Besette, Emily, Marc and Timothy.

What a special time of year after a long, hard winter for many, and Ivan, Ann and Ivan, Jr., Proctor were at their trailer in Stratton last weekend. Sidney and Cynthia Scott were at their camp in Stratton also.

Brant Sanborn spent Friday and Saturday nights with his grandparents Vernon and Miriam Inman. We took him home to No. Conway on Sunday and celebrated Caroline's first birthday. Grandson Vernon went with us.

West Paris Historical Society met Monday evening with 15 members present. The Society will be selling postcards of reprints of old pictures. Sayward and Cynthia Lamb will be in charge of the potluck supper for the next meeting, which will be on June 21. Float plans for the Bicentennial Parade in July will be on the agenda.

Word was received that Warren C. Hyam, 65, of Lady Lake, Fla., passed away Tuesday morning, May 18. Mr. Hyam was a retired Methodist minister in Peabody, Mass., where he lived before moving to Florida this past winter. He is survived by his wife Alma, a son Wayne of Londonderry, N.H., his brother Phillip of Lady Lake, three grandchildren and a niece, Janet Hyam of West Paris.

So ended my day. What else was there to say.

Those who worked were Carl, Betty, Albert, Marie Curtis, Steven and Colista Cogswell. Again, "Thank you."

On Mother's Day the Tamminen family gathered at Nestor's and Katie's residence for an afternoon of celebrating birthdays and anniversaries. Cake, ice cream and punch were served to the host and hostess, plus Pat and Charlie Verrill, Dell and Betty Hayes, Deven, Judi, Ian and Kara Andrews, Delsey Andrews, Demian Manecchia, Paula Perham, Dana Morgan, Tricia Perham, Tony and Errol Andrews and Mary Perham. Uncle Aarne Jarvenpaa was unable to attend.

There is going to be a six-family yard sale at Nestor Tamminen's on the Richardson Hollow Road, Greenwood, May 29 from 9 to 3. Rain date June 5.

I saw two moose swim the pond, together, one day this week; others have been seen also.

My niece, Kathy Curtis came to see me one day this week.

I went to a supper at the Universalist Church with Milton and Eleanor Inman on Wednesday. The speaker was very interesting.

By RUSSELL YATES

Dear Readers, it's news time once more so must fill you in on our doings for the past week. I started the week off by digging up some dead rosebushes. All of that real cold weather last fall without any snow didn't do some of the roses and shrubbery any good. Some were tough enough to survive, but others just didn't make it. Modern-day roses seem to require pampering to survive. Monday evening, we visited Richard and Barbara Felt in Bryant Pond.

Tuesday, Peggy helped me and we worked outside for a while. We got the eave drains up and the water barrels in place to catch water to use in the garden. We also installed a flag holder onto the front of the mobile home and can now hang out the flag that Charlotte Cole gave Peggy for Mother's Day, making us seem more patriotic. Peggy had been wishing that we had a flag anyway.

That evening we picked up Mary Smith and then went to the home of Ruth Tyler in Bryant Pond. This was another meeting of some members of Woodstock High School alumni, and final plans were made for the alumni banquet. This banquet will be held at Telstar High School Cafeteria in Bethel on June 12, at 6 p.m. We helped on getting invitations ready to go to the qualifying seniors, also to the 50, 60, and 70-year alumni. Sister Viva graduated 50 years ago.

Wednesday, we did quite a lot of work outside during the day, but then went to a supper and meeting of New Century Pomona, which was hosted by Rufford Grange. This was Past Masters' and Past Lecturers' Night, and I had been invited to fill the office of Master for the evening. Peggy had also been invited to serve on the C.W.A. committee. The judging of the Apple Cake Contest was done at this meeting, and I was picked to be one of the judges. I'm a poor judge, as most anything for edible food tastes good to me. They had a real good potluck supper, and I did my best to help judge the cakes afterward. They all tasted good to me, but I could detect a preference. Thankfully, there were only five cakes. We enjoyed the supper and the meeting with a real nice program.

Thursday afternoon we went to Auburn again. I wanted some supplies at Agway's that I couldn't seem to get at Farmer's Union, so we went there first. Then we went to Caldwell's, where Peggy got some baking supplies and from there we went to visit sister Viva. We found her doing as well as usual. We visited with her for quite a while, then went to the home of Myrna and Bernard White. They insisted that we stay to supper before leaving for home.

Friday was a busy day here in the neighborhood. There was a yard sale going on next door, my nephew David was working on wood for winter burning, and I was outside working on my peonies and other flowers. Jim Record, from West Paris, brought me a gallon of his good maple syrup. We bought some syrup from him last year and liked it very much, so we decided that we should have another gallon.

Saturday, Peggy took her car down to Northeast Tire Co. in the forenoon to have an oil change and a grease job. She also picked up some supplies that we were in need of. In the late forenoon she went to Auburn to join Myrna and Bernard White for a trip to Farmington College where they attended graduation.

Pamela Taylor, from Jay, was one of the graduates. She is the daughter of Myrna and the granddaughter of sister Peggy. Pam, as we know her, is a married lady with four sons, the youngest one being about one and one-half years old. With the help of an understanding husband, she has kept her family well cared for and has still gone to college, studying to become a school teacher. She has worked very hard during her college years and graduated with high honors. We are very proud of her accomplishment.

Saturday evening visitors were Pauline Kennison and our nephew Gary Yates. Gary is here for a few days' vacation before returning to his home in Maryland. He is studying to become a missionary and has completed two years of study. He has to study for two more years before graduation. We wish him good luck. Peggy attended the dance at West Paris Grange later in the evening.

Our Sunday afternoon visitors were Bryce and Barbara Yates from Sunday River in Newry. They brought us two jars of that good Alaska salmon, also a package of fresh water smelts. We will enjoy both of these very much.

They visited in the afternoon and then had supper with us before going to visit Lawrence and Grace Yates in the evening. They told of a cruise that they had taken but weren't overly impressed with. The food left a lot to be desired.

Callers this past week at the Lovejoy homestead have been Marsha Baxter from Oxford and Christopher Whittemore from South Paris.

Tuesday, Mary Lovejoy called on Helena Bartlett at the Bethel House and found her feeling much better.

Mary Lovejoy called on Arlene Farr at Stephen's Memorial Hospital one day recently. She found Arlene doing better and seemed more like Arlene. We all wish her a speedy recovery. She is missed at the West Paris Grange meetings.

Yesterday, Mark Dunn attended a birthday party for his friend Andy Cook in North Paris.

Clarence Reed of West Paris was honored at The Mission Congregational Church on Sunday.

Mary Lovejoy reports having made two dooryard calls at Bertha Benoit's lately but found her gone both times. Bertha was confined to home for a long time with a broken hip and is now able to go and help people once more.

CUDDLY CHICKEN—Food, fun, sun, music and friendly animals were the perfect combination Saturday for the Crescent Park School's first annual May Fair. Here Joel Doyen holds a young chicken from the festival's petting zoo. The event also featured local entertainers Jewel Clark, Donny Katlin and Brandon Moore and his band. Each CPS classroom also sponsored a carnival game.

Jackson-Silver Auxiliary

May 20 found members at the hall early in the afternoon as they took inventory of the kitchen and storeroom while cleaning and rearranging both rooms. These tasks are always lighter when shared by several pairs of hands. Each one had brought something for supper so that they didn't have to go home and come back for the meeting.

Since the last meeting two spruce trees have been purchased and planted on the grounds of the Legion Hall, one in the Memorial Garden area and the other at another location. It is planned to dedicate them after the Memorial Day services on May 31.

Time was spent planning a benefit supper to be served on June 5 from 5 p.m. until food is gone or people stop coming. Noreen Russo, a member and past president of the unit has undergone major surgery twice in the past few months and will not be going back to work for at least 6 to 8 weeks. It is hoped that her many relatives and friends will attend and make this a very successful fund-raiser. Donation at the door will be $2 for children under 12 and $4 for all others. The menu will include baked beans, hot and cold dishes, cole slaw and pies for dessert.

In other business a donation of $20 was voted for canteen books at Togus and plans were made for Memorial Day activities. Some will attend services in Newry at noon on May 30 and some will march at Locke Mills and Bryant Pond the next day, as well as attend services at the cemetery in East Bethel. The usual refreshments will be served by the Auxiliary at the Legion Hall following the parade in Locke Mills.

There was a review of candidates for department offices at the convention last month in Augusta. Since the next meeting would ordinarily fall on June 17, which is the day the delegates would be leaving for convention, it was agreed to postpone that meeting until after convention and hold it on June 24.

The June meeting of Oxford County Council, originally scheduled for June 22 in Peru has been canceled so that there will be no more District 2 or Oxford County Council meetings until September, places to be announced at a later date.

BETHEL VFW POST NEWS

The first annual candlelight memorial service for all veterans killed in service will be held July 16 at dusk.

The Veterans of Foreign War Post #11363 of Bethel will provide all candles for parade marchers on the Bethel common.

The parade starts at the common and paraders will march down Main Street to the Civil War Monument for a brief ceremony.

CMP WARNS: CALL FIRST, WORK NEAR LINES LATER

Central Maine Power Company is asking homeowners to notify the company before they work near power lines.

CMP linemen will wrap homeowner's power lines, before customers do home improvement chores, such as roofing, painting or siding near power lines. Customers should contact CMP three days in advance.

Fourteen days after the installation, CMP will remove the insulated wrap, unless an extension is requested.

For more information call 1-800-750-4000.

STONEHAM RESCUE MEMORIAL DAY BREAKFAST

Stoneham Rescue Service will once again kick off the summer season with its annual Memorial Day Weekend Breakfast on Sunday, May 30, from 7 to 10:30 a.m. at the Stoneham Rescue Barn on the corner of Route 5 and Butter's Hill Road in East Stoneham.

The menu includes blueberry or plain pancakes, French toast, eggs, bacon, sausage, toast, homemade muffins and beverages.

Price is $4 for adults, $3 for children under 12 and free for children under 5. Proceeds to benefit Stoneham Rescue.

In conjunction with the breakfast, Steve Goldsmith of Lovell will conduct a sale of hanging and potted plants. A portion of the proceeds will benefit Stoneham Rescue.

MOOSE HUNT DRAWING

Maine's 1993 moose hunters will be determined at a public drawing on Wednesday, June 2, at the Augusta State Armory.

Last year, over 88,000 applicants competed for the 1,000 available permits. The count of this year's applicants will not be completed until shortly before the drawing.

PARTNERSHIP GETS SERVICE AWARD

Volunteers of the Western Maine Community Partnership traveled to Augusta for the 1993 Annual Drug-Free Schools Recognition Ceremony recently.

The partnership was presented with the Governor's Community Service Award for their work in alcohol, tobacco, and other drug abuse prevention in Western Maine. The award was presented by Marlene McMullen-Pelsor, acting director of the Office of Substance Abuse.

The award ceremony is a project of the Maine Department of Education's Division of Alcohol and Drug Education Services (DADES). The Maine Drug-Free Schools Recognition Program supports and celebrates efforts demonstrating progress toward attaining the sixth of the National Education Goals as part of the America 2000 strategy. The sixth goal is "Every school in America will be free of drugs and violence and will offer a disciplined environment conducive to learning."

Gertrude O'Farrell, executive director of the Western Regional Council on Alcoholism and project director for the Western Maine Community Partnership, spoke on behalf of the 340 volunteers of the partnership to express her gratitude to the group and her thanks to DADES for the honor this recognition brings to the three communities the partnership serves greater Farmington, greater Rumford and Oxford Hills.

Other talents include Joe Robichaud of Gorham, N.H., who will be fiddling. Other fiddle players will be Raoul Pinette and Chuck Frechette of Lewiston, Jim Roy of Dixfield, and Rudolph Royer of Bethel.

DEVONSQUARE

Mahoosuc Arts notes:

"Devonsquare," the "pop with a twist" band, will be performing their rich, harmonic vocals and eclectic musical style on May 28, 8 p.m. at Telstar High School's Helen C. Berry Auditorium. The event is sponsored by the Mahoosuc Arts Council with the support of the Maine Arts Commission. Tickets are $8 in advance (reservations can be made by calling 824-3575), and $10 at the door. Due to the group's popularity, organizers recommend that people reserve their tickets ahead of time. If tickets are not reserved, please call ahead of time to see if the concert is sold out.

Devonsquare, a trio which has undergone transformations and growth for 15 years, has finally hit the big time. Their first two independently released albums, 1984's, "Devon 2" and 1985's, "Night Sail," were both named "Best Album" at the Maine Musical Awards. Devonsquare was also dubbed 1987's "Act of the Year" by New York radio station WNEW-FM's Mixed Bag show. Their third album, "Walking On Ice," was released independently in 1987 and led to the trio being signed to Atlantic, which re-released the album in 1988. Its title track reached the Top 20 on the national AC charts and was a breakthrough NAC hit.

Paul Cote of Lewiston, harmonica by Norman Robichaud of Mexico, and guitarist Donald Chasse of Bethel.

Via-Vision Productions, which has organized the event, is an independent, nonprofit film and video organization.

For tickets or information call 364-2302. Admission in advance is $5 and $7 at the door. Tickets are also available at the Mexico Plaza laundry service and at the Rumford Credit Union, located on River Street.

OLYMPIC CHEF—Stephen Stone of the Bethel Inn has recently won gold medals in culinary competitions in the U.S. and Canada. Stone took two gold medals in the recent Culinary Olympics cold food tryouts in Boston. Stone won one medal for his cold food buffet table and the other for a centerpiece of a pheasant made of salt. He is one of seven chefs in the Northeast region who will advance to the hot food tryouts in Orlando, Fla. in July. Of the seven, a team of five chefs from the Northeast region will be chosen to compete in the 1996 Culinary Olympics in Frankfurt, Germany. Stone and team of six other chefs also took second place at the Taste of Canada International Culinary Competition in Toronto. Individually, Stone took first place for a cold buffet platter and a hot dish. Stone, who has been cooking at the Bethel Inn for the past year as sous chef, was appointed last week as the inn's executive chef.

FROM THE

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce has been awarded a grant of $22,500 from the U.S. Forest Service and the Maine Forest Service to do a background study and strategic plan for economic diversification and development in the Bethel/Evans Notch Region. The grant was announced and presented at the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce Annual Awards Banquet by the Evans Notch Ranger District's Rollie Ortegon.

The goals of the grant will include the following:

- establishment of businesses at the town-owned Industrial Park at Bethel Airport.
- value-added manufacturing and assembly using wood products and wood waste.
- establishment or expansion of business opportunities supplying the growing tourism sector.
- mail-order marketing of quality craft and gift products to the potential "data base" of individual and companies who have a personal connection to the Bethel Area through association with Sunday River Ski Resort, Gould Academy, National Training Laboratories or Outward Bound.

- expansion of small-scale and specialty agriculture to supply local and regional restaurants.

The grant, which was supported by the Evans Notch Ranger District, the Threshold to Maine Resource Conservation and Development Program, the Town of Bethel, the Industrial Park Committee, the Western Mountains Alliance, SAD 44 Adult Education, and U.S. Sens. Mitchell and Cohen's offices, will enable a thorough study of all economic development possibilities as well as how we can strengthen existing Bethel area businesses. The final phase of the study/strategic plan will be a community forum to establish "rule out" or "explore further reactions."

For more information on this project, call the Chamber of Commerce office at 824-2282.

Rotary Club notes:

Jim Chandler, from the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District, was the guest speaker at the Tuesday, May 18, breakfast meeting. Jim's topic to share was the Kids For Trees Project, a program of the SAD #44 third-graders, in its fifth year.

The goals of this program are many and varied. Primarily, it is a hands on approach to natural resource management. As third-graders the children do gridwork and plant the trees. In fourth and fifth grade the students do fertilization, liming and care of the trees. The sixth-grade activity includes more care and the building of bird houses, which help to keep pests away from the trees. Seventh-graders do tree identification and further care of the trees. Eventually, as 12th-graders, the students will harvest the trees to sell for Christmas as a fundraiser for Project Graduation.

The club welcomed back Romeo Baker, who has been in Florida all winter.

Ted Davis had Rotary Information and shared statistics on the Rotary Foundation Scholarships.

Guests for the morning were Bob and Cynthia Laux, Mike Hart and Kevin Zinchuk.

Task Force notes:

Recent committee activity and plans for the 1993 NTL season were chief items on the May 23 meeting agenda of the Bethel Area Task Force.

Don Coverdale reported on the recent customer relations workshop, which the diversity sub-group sponsored at the Bethel Inn. Eva Schindler-Rainman and Coverdale were facilitators. Local arrangements were by Gwyneth Bohr, Cathy Newell, and John Shorb. Over 50 people attended, representing several area businesses.

The committee expects to continue to work with this group of people from the community who have interest in building mutual respect and satisfaction in interactions with visiting customers.

Kathi Schandelmeier, manager for NTL Bethel operations, announced that the NTL sessions will run from June 14 to Sept. 3. She noted that persons desiring to apply for a Bethel scholarship should obtain a form from her and file the application as soon as possible. There will no longer be unfilled spots available for reduced fees.

The NTL management and the Task Force will each host a social event during the season. Sunrise Seminars will be held in the Bethel Inn Conference Center Wednesday to Saturday each session. Task Force groups who are interested in conducting a seminar should send proposals to the NTL dean. Don Coverdale will again plan Sunday services as last year.

Work is progressing on the renovation of the Gehring Conference Center. Rooms will be ready for the first labs. Plans were discussed for an open house event later on to acquaint potential users with the facility.

The next task force meeting will be June 27, place to be announced.

Evans Notch Ranger District

On May 12, 1993, District Ranger Rolly Orton signed a decision to proceed with Timber Stand Improvement projects located in Oxford County, Maine, and Carroll County, New Hampshire. The projects will remove competing vegetation surrounding selected crop trees in order to enhance growth and vigor of residual trees. The activities will focus on releasing paper birch and white pine saplings on 100 acres which are regenerating after previous timber harvests. No herbicides will be used, and no roads will be built to complete these projects.

The Decision Memo is available upon request from the Evans Notch Ranger District, RR2 Box 2270, Bethel, Me. 04217

This decision is subject to appeal pursuant to Forest Service regulations 36 CFR Part 217. Appeals must be filed no later than July 6, 1993. Legal Notice of this decision was first published in the Lewiston Sun-Journal, Lewiston, Maine, on May 19, 1993.
